DEATH OF THOMAS A. BROADUS.

Thomas Andrew Broadus, son of the late James M. and Mary C. Broadus, of this city, died on Saturday night at the Garfield Hospital in Washington, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Broadus was born in Culpeper county, but in childhood removed with his parents to Alexandria, where he spent most of his life. In his early years he was a teacher but later became connected with the government pension office, in which position he continued until his death. Peculiarly strong was his hold upon the hearts of his friends. In his wide circle he was well known for his mental gifts and attractive social qualities as well as for the helpfulness of his sunny, Christian character. He had a marked taste for literary pursuits and through all his life was an occasional contributor to the press. Mr. Broadus is survived by his wife, who was a daughter of the late Mr. William F. Botts, of Culpeper; his son, Dr. Edmund Kemper Broadus, of the University of Alberta, Canada; his two sisters, Misses Rosalie and Reubie Broadus, of this city; and his brother, Mr. John Cooke Broadus, of Monclair, N. J. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of his mother, Mrs. S. O. Thomas, pastor of the Baptist Church, the body will be taken to Oakwood cemetery Washington, for interment.

ARREST OF BREAD THIEVES.

Four white and four colored boys, charged with robbing bread boxes and stealing milk from the front of houses, were arraigned in the dock of the Police Court this morning. A white man named John Hall and a colored man named Walter Johnson had also been arrested on a charge of receiving the stolen articles. The accused had been arrested by Chief Goods and Officers Bell, Gill, Sampson, and Rehnard. Some of the boys turned state's evidence and said they had been forced by Hall and Johnson to steal bread boxes, and that they had been directed to clean up the stolen goods. The boys are being held in the city jail and are working in relays in rifling bread boxes. A key which fits the boxes had been procured and was turned over from night to night to different bands of youths. Two of the boys were dismissed and the others were turned over to their parents for correction with the positive assurance that if they reappear in the dock on a similar charge they will be sent to the reform school. Hall and Johnson were fined $50 each and in addition sentenced to serve six months in jail. This sentence makes them eligible for road service.

BATTERY RODGERS COVE.

As has been stated, the work of throwing an earthen retaining wall across Battery Rodgers cove, preparatory to the harbor improvement work to start there shortly under the direction of army engineers, has been commenced. A fleet of scows and dredges employed. The embankment will run in a line north from Jones' point, near the light-house, to the Alexandria shipyard. The large quantity of material to be excavated from the river channel at Alexandria will be pumped into the space. The strange claim that the land made by the dredging operations will belong to the District of Columbia is being argued. This will, of course, be disputed by the abutting property owners. It is probable that the state of Virginia will also take part in the controversy as the reclaimed land will form the eastern termini of several streets of the city.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]
The following cases were disposed of this morning:
Six white boys and four colored boys, charged with stealing bread from boxes in front of stores, were turned over to their parents for correction. Two white boys, charged with the same offense, were dismissed.
John Hall, white, and Walter Johnson, colored, charged with receiving bread known to have been stolen, were fined $50 each and sentenced to jail for six months.
Benjamin Johnson, colored, charged with assaulting Preston Smith, was dismissed.
Nooks Payne, colored, charged with assaulting Dennis Harris, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.
Gertie Levell, colored, charged with assaulting Lizzie Thompson, was fined five dollars.

The stern paddle wheel steamer Fortuna, after having been overhauled at the shipyard, is awaiting orders from the Philadelphia Trust Company, which owns her. It is said she is to be put in service on the Potomac.

DEATH OF F. B. SCHAFER.

Mr. Frank B. Schaffer, aged 33 years, a son of the late George Schaffer, died yesterday afternoon at the Alexandria Hospital after a brief illness of typhoid fever. He leaves a widow. Mr. Schaffer was a painter by occupation and was a member of the Painters' Union of this city.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Mr. William J. Wilkerson, a former policeman, was elected a member of the force to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. William Schoen at the meeting of the Police Board last Saturday night.
After a long investigation into the robbery of the China store of Mr. Oscar Carter, 505 King street, August 24, the commissioners arrived at the conclusion that in the absence of positive evidence they would dismiss the charges against the accused policemen. Lieut. Bettis and Frank Sampson were the police cited before the board.

A letter written by Mr. Carter concerning the robbery was read. Lieut. Bettis told the commissioners that Mr. Carter reported the robbery to him August 26, shortly before 9 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Carter, he said, asked for Chief Goods, and went up stairs in search of the chief. It was after he came downstairs, the witness said, that he made the report of the robbery to him.

A memorandum of the robbery, Lieut. Bettis said, was written down by Policeman Gill. Shortly afterward Policeman Sampson called up police headquarters. Lieut. Bettis requested him to come to the station house for a warrant. When Policeman Sampson arrived he detailed him on the case. Half an hour afterward, he said, Policeman Sampson telephoned him that he had made an investigation. Witness said the police afterward arrested a white youth, who admitted the robbery.

Policeman Sampson corroborated the statement of Lieut. Bettis, he said he went to the store that morning and saw Mr. Carter and made an investigation. Afterward he telephoned to Lieut. Bettis at headquarters. He went to the store half an hour after he had been detailed to do so. He emphatically denied that it was not investigated until twenty-four hours after. Chief Goods said he did not see Mr. Carter until the following morning after he had reported the case to Lieut. Bettis. Policeman Sampson, he said, told him he had been to Mr. Carter's place.

Witness met Mr. Carter the morning following the latter's report of the case. He informed him that no one had been to his place to investigate the robbery.

The chief said he at once began an investigation and upon arriving at police headquarters he was told that the case had been investigated by Policemen Sampson.

Lieut. Bettis also told witness that Policeman Sampson was detailed on the case and had investigated it. Suspicion, he said, rested on the white youth arrested for the robbery. He told the police to pick up the lad.

Commissioner Bryan called for the police record of the robbery. It was brought before the commissioners. It was observed by Commissioner Bryan that the dates of various other things were not in rotation on the books. Chief Goods explained that at that time the men were busy with the firemen's convention and reports were not entered up until after the convention.

After considerable delay Mr. Carter appeared before the board to testify. He said that, that having had the case investigated as promptly he thought it should be, he wrote the letter to the commissioners. That afternoon he said, Policeman Sampson came by and he called him.

He claimed that he never saw Policeman Sampson that day until he passed his place in the afternoon. So far witness knew, he said, Policeman Sampson did not come into his place of business to investigate the case.

Witness said the policeman remarked: "Don't say anything and we will catch him."

At the time Mr. Carter was testifying Lieutenant Bettis and Policeman Sampson were present. Mr. Carter said Lieutenant Bettis had told him that Chief Goods was out at the time he called to report the robbery.

Lieut. Bettis said that he was "no liar." Mr. Carter again asserted that if Policeman Sampson was in his store that day he was not aware of it. Lieut. Bettis again said he objected to being called untruthful, and that he could prove his assertion. In the meantime the debate began to wax pretty warm. Mayor Paff, who was presiding over the meeting, rapped for order.

Policeman Gill corroborated Lieut. Bettis' statement, adding that he made a memorandum of Mr. Carter's report, that Lieut. Bettis afterward posted in a book kept for that purpose.

Lieut. Bettis, he said, afterward told him that the case has been investigated by Policemen Sampson and that Sampson reported to him.

The investigation will inaugurate a new method at police headquarters, which will mean that records in the future will be more explicit. Commissioner Bryan, ordered that a general desk book be used, in which all events occurring during the day's all be kept, including the arrest of prisoners and other things. All other reports then can be transcribed from this book.

This method will do away with the old system in vogue of recording names of prisoners brought into headquarters on a slate with a slate pencil.

FELL THROUGH A TRESTLE.

The police were informed at an early hour this morning that a man, supposed to be dead, was lying at Spring Park, on the electric railroad. The man's face was bloody, and a report rapidly spread to the effect that Alexandria had another murder mystery to solve. Officers Young, Ferguson, Rawlett and Sampson proceeded to Spring Park when it was found that the man, although badly hurt, was not dead. He was taken to the Alexandria Hospital where he died. The man's skull was fractured and he was suffering from other injuries. Upon regaining consciousness he said his name was Julius Strickland, that he was from Richmond and that he fell through a trestle at Spring Park while endeavoring to board a southbound freight train.

Mr. Richard P. Smith died at his residence at Braddock Heights this morning. The deceased was 59 years old.

A YOUTH ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

James Cook, twenty years old, called upon Miss Jessie Windsor at the home of Mr. James M. Davis, 1208 Prince street, on Saturday night, and according to a statement made by the young woman, Cook, after a quarrel, pulled out a revolver and said, "I'll end it!" and shot himself. After Dr. Delaney had been summoned he was hurried to the Alexandria Hospital, where it was found that the bullet entered the fourth and fifth ribs on the right side. Young Cook was employed in a tailoring establishment in this city.

Young Cook's condition had improved somewhat this morning.

There is more than one version of the affair. One is that the young woman has recently been receiving the attentions of a young man in Washington, and that Young Cook, after attempting to induce Miss Windsor to cease receiving his attention, shot himself. It is also said that two shots were fired, one of which burned Miss Windsor's arm while she was endeavoring to prevent her suitor from shooting himself. People, however, who were in the house at the time say but one shot was fired.

Members of the young man's family deny positively that there was any attempt on his part to commit suicide, but say his wound was accidentally inflicted.

BODY IDENTIFIED.

The name of the colored man whose body was found in the river near the Dyke last Friday was Gilbert and he lived in Leesburg. The unfortunate man had been employed on a dredge and it is supposed he fell overboard while suffering from a fit. Two of his brothers reached this city yesterday and made arrangements to have the remains exhumed and forwarded to Leesburg.

THE WEATHER.
It was a false alarm—the order to "Shoot That Hat." The order said to have been issued on the 15th inst. is withdrawn, that is if anyone can be found sufficiently cold to admit the responsibility for issuing it. Withdrawn for the well known fact that Saturday, yesterday and today have gladdened the hearts of those who love "The Good Old Summertime," and recall the happy days "When this old hat was new." But, better than all this, it delays for a short period the passing of the summer girl in her make up of spring and summer lingerie.

A marriage license was issued in Washington today to Walter Hanna and Esther J. Compton, both of Alexandria.
